2. Living and Study in Melbourne

The state of Victoria's vibrant capital, Melbourne, is a wonderful city that is often ranked amongst the world's most liveable each year.

Melbourne is an international city with a vibrant arts scene, a multicultural population, cosmopolitan cafes, restaurants, bars and pubs and world-renowned sporting events with many opportunities for social, entertainment and leisure activities.

Of course, Melbourne is also known for its coffee culture, distinctive laneways, street art, live music scene, and for also having the largest tram network in the world.

The official spoken language is English; however more than one hundred (100) languages are spoken by the city's residents.

Melbourne's climate is commonly known for its changeable weather with the city described as having "four seasons in one day". The climate does vary up and down Australia's eastern seaboard, with the north experiencing much warmer weather than the south.

As Melbourne is located in the southern hemisphere, we experience opposite seasons to those in Europe, North America, and most of Asia. During the warmer months, October to March, most of the eastern Australian states in Victoria have daylight saving where the clocks are moved forward by one hour to allow for more daylight hours to enjoy the balmy evenings.

For more information about Australia and Melbourne please refer to the following websites:

2.1 Cost of Living in Melbourne, Australia

The cost of living will vary depending on the style of accommodation and the lifestyle you choose. Recreation and entertainment are matters of individual taste; the amount of money spent varies depending on your interests, budget, and location.

In estimating basic incidental expenses, you should consider items such as medical, transport, occasional restaurant meals, recreation, personal items, sightseeing and entertainment.

The Department of Home Affairs (DHA) has financial requirements you must meet in order to receive a student visa for Australia. The expected cost of living is approximately "$25,000 (AUD)" per annum if you are single and this does not include your tuition fees, material fees, accommodation, transport, food, or furniture and additional household goods.

The link below provides some of the costs associated with living and studying in Australia - <https://www.studyaustralia.gov.au/en/life-in-australia/living-and-education-costs>.

2.2 Clothing

It is advisable to pack and bring personal clothing, particularly if you are going to have limited income. Australia is more expensive to purchase these items than in Asian countries but can be cheaper for students coming from North America and Europe. There are numerous shopping complexes, malls, and local markets to purchase cost effective clothing, personal items, and consumer goods.

Students generally adhere to an informal dress code when studying in Australia. Jeans, tracksuit pants or slacks with t-shirts or blouses, runners or sneakers are almost standard dress. Shorts are often worn during the summer months.

2.3 Grocery Shopping

Grocery shopping in Melbourne can be quite an adventure offering a large range of choice in gourmet food and produce choices due to our diverse and multicultural society.

Supermarkets including Woolworths, Coles, IGA, and Aldi are readily available in both the city centre as well as most suburban shopping centres.

Markets are also an exciting shopping experience and can be visited most days off the week for fresh produce. Popular Markets include:

- Queen Victoria Market (QVM) - <https://qvm.com.au/>
- South Melbourne Market - <https://southmelbournemarket.com.au/>
- Prahran Market - <https://www.prahranmarket.com.au/>

2.4 Dining and Eating Out

Melbourne is renowned for its international cuisine and abundant eateries and is further considered the Food Capital of Australia.

Australian International Institute of Technology is centrally located on the edge of Melbourne's "Hoddle Grid" and "Central Business District (CBD)" with some of the world's best casual and fine dining and dynamic sporting and entertainment facilities just doors, laneways or a free tram ride away from the campus!

2.5 Accommodation

Australian International Institute of Technology does not have its own on-campus student accommodation but there are numerous housings and accommodation options available throughout Melbourne's city centre, inner and outer suburbs.

Students can choose to share and/or rent an apartment, flat or house, or stay in student apartment complexes or hostels, or live with an Australian family in a Homestay boarding arrangement if preferred.

The cost of accommodation however can vary significantly and will be determined by location, type of housing, access to amenities, services provided and how many people are to share the accommodation.

The “Study Melbourne Student Centre” provides information on living and accommodation:

- <https://www.studymelbourne.vic.gov.au/living-and-accommodation#>

International students may initially book temporary accommodation, so they can make some informed choices about where they would like to permanently reside after they have arrived in Melbourne.

2.5.1 Renting a House, Unit, Apartment, or a Flat

If you are considering rental accommodation in either a house, unit or flat, there are a range of other expenses that need to be considered:

- Rental properties usually require one (1) month's rent in advance and one (1) month's rent for bond.
- Cost of furniture and amenities.
- Periodic utility expenses (gas, electricity, water, telephone, internet services).

It could be a more feasible option to rent a room in an already established house which will not only assist with expenses, but also provides a good opportunity to gain some independence while still being able to have a close support network around you.

Living conditions are usually established at the time of entering a lease contract with the other occupants. Housing and flat costs will vary on size of the accommodation and the number of occupants.

2.5.2 Places of Worship

There is “freedom of religion” in Australia and Melbourne.

Many of the world’s religions are represented in Melbourne and have their own places of worship. These can be found listed alphabetically under the denomination via the internet.

The majority of Australians identify as Christian, the three (3) largest denominations being Anglican, Roman Catholic, and the Uniting Church.

Smaller Christian denominations include Lutheran, Jehovah’s Witness, Seventh Day Adventist, and Baptist.

Other major religions with a great many adherents in Australia include Judaism, Islam, Buddhism, Hinduism, and Taoism.

2.6 Public Transport

Everything you need to know about tickets and fares for public transport in Melbourne and Victoria.

2.6.1 Myki Cards, Trams, and Metro Trains

A Myki Card is your reusable travel smart card for trains, trams and buses in Melbourne and regional Victorian areas. Top up before your journey and touch on and touch off at a Myki reader as you travel.

You can use your Myki card on Melbourne's trains, trams and buses and select V/Line trains running between metropolitan Melbourne and Eaglehawk/Epsom, Seymour, Traralgon, Waurn Ponds and Wendouree. Myki is also used on buses in regional cities Ballarat, Bendigo, Geelong, Seymour, the Latrobe Valley and Warragul. For more information you can visit the website <https://www.ptv.vic.gov.au/tickets/myki/>.

Myki prices and fares will depend on where and what mode of transport you are travelling on. Public Transport Victoria defines the metropolitan area as "Melbourne and its suburbs", and the rest of Victoria as "Regional".

There are many different types of tickets, such as Concession and Other passes. For more information you can visit the Myki website <https://www.ptv.vic.gov.au/tickets/fares/>.

2.6.2 Free Tram Zone

The Free Tram Zone in Melbourne's CBD makes it easier for commuters and tourists to move around the city. The principal boundaries of the Free Tram Zone include Spring Street, Flinders Street and La Trobe Street.

Additionally, the tram routes along Victoria Street, William Street and Elizabeth Street that surround Queen Victoria Market are also included as well as the inner Docklands area.

Timetables for buses can often be provided by the driver on request, or by telephoning the bus company.

2.6.4 Taxis

Melbourne taxis are easy to spot as they all display a “Taxi” sign on the roof of the vehicle and were usually yellow in colour.

Drivers “must display their identity and accredited Taxi Driver License card and number” on the dashboard of their car.

Taxi services operate 24 hours a day.

Taxi ranks are clearly identifiable by signposts and usually located in busy areas, like the Central Business District (CBD). You can also hail a taxi that is not at a rank providing that the rooftop light is illuminated.

A meter on the dashboard of the taxi shows the fare.

If travelling in a taxi late at night (Midnight - 5:00 am) you will pay an additional surcharge.

Taxis will also charge for a phone booking.

Taxi companies are listed in the Yellow Pages telephone directory under “Taxi Cabs”.

2.6.5 Ride Share including Uber

Uber is a global platform that allows you to order a ride from your smartphone. Uber is a two-way street – both drivers and riders can rate each other and share the benefits of the service.

If you want to use the Uber platform as a rider, you first need to download the app (available for iOS and Android) and create an account.

You are required to provide your debit or credit card information, so you can be charged through the app.

When you want to order an Uber, open the app, and make sure your location is correct, then choose what type of Uber you want.

Please refer to the following website to obtain information about how to gain a Victorian driver's license
<http://www.vicroads.vic.gov.au>

9. Beach Safety

The beach is one of Australia's most recognizable and enjoyable features and Melbourne has many wonderful and accessible beaches.

Here is how you can enjoy a day at the beach safely and help prevent accidents, injury or even death. To make sure you are safe when swimming at the beach:

- Find the red and yellow flags and swim between them.
- Look at, understand, and obey the safety signs.
- Ask a lifeguard or lifesaver for advice before you enter the water.
- Get a friend to swim with you.
- Stick your hand up, stay calm, and call for help if you get into trouble.
- You should also conserve your energy by floating on your back and staying calm if you are in trouble. This will ensure you have the energy to remain afloat until assistance arrives.

Beach Safety Flags and Signs to be aware of are as follows:

BEACH SAFETY FLAGS

RED and YELLOW FLAGS:
Always swim between the flags.

RED FLAG:
No swimming.

YELLOW FLAG:
Caution required. Potential hazards.

RED AND WHITE FLAG:
Evacuate the water.

BLACK AND WHITE FLAG:
Surfcraft riding area boundary.

There are also a number of signs that lifesavers and/or lifeguards may use to communicate with beachgoers and warn them of any potential hazards. These may include: dangerous surf, closed beaches, and marine stingers.

BEACH SIGNS

Warning signs (diamond shape, yellow and black) are used to warn you about a hazard(s) at the beach.

For more information, visit Life Saving Victoria (LSV) or Royal Life Saving Australia as follows:

- <https://lsv.com.au/>
- <https://www.royallifesaving.com.au/>

10. Overseas Student Health Cover (OSHC)

International students and their families are required to “maintain adequate medical coverage” and pay for health insurance in Australia through the Overseas Student Health Cover (OSHC) scheme prior to being issued with a visa.

This aligns to “Visa Condition 8501 (Maintain Adequate Medical Insurance)”.

Not only is it your responsibility to ensure that your “Overseas Student Health Cover (OSHC)” remains valid throughout your stay in Australia, but recent changes to legislation require all international students on a student visa to purchase OSHC for the duration of their visa at the time of enrolment.

Students from Sweden, Norway, Belgium and other Territories may have special arrangements under their own national schemes.

To find out if special arrangements apply please visit the Department of Home Affairs (DHA) website, <https://immi.homeaffairs.gov.au/>.

Australian International Institute of Technology recommends three (3) providers for your health insurance requirements and can facilitate your initial payments and renewal fees for you with your consent.

Recommended and suggested OSHC's include:

- Allianz - <https://www.oshc.allianzassistance.com.au/#anCalculate>
- Bupa - <https://www.bupa.com.au/health-insurance/cover/oshcquote>
- Medibank - <https://www.medibank.com.au/overseas-health-insurance/oshc/>

Costs for OSHC are determined by how long you are going to be in Australia and most health funds will have comparative premiums.

Single cover for a year is around “$500.00 (AUD)”. If you are travelling with a family, you need to apply for family cover. You can research OSHC via the world wide web in Australia to get estimates.

OSHC covers most medical expenses and the cost of hospital care while in Australia, including emergency ambulance and some prescription drugs.

It will not cover dental and optometry and other ancillary services, but you are able to take out additional cover which will include these. Finally, your cover also does not include any pre-existing illnesses or conditions.

11. Australian Consumer Law (ACL)

The “Australian Competition and Consumer Commission (ACCC)” promotes competition and fair trade to benefit consumers, businesses, and the community and regulates national infrastructure services.

They ensure that individuals and businesses comply with Australian competition, fair trading, and consumer protection laws. For more information, please refer to <https://www.accc.gov.au/>.

“Australian Consumer Law (ACL)” provides an overview of the legislation and amendments, plus guides and fact sheets to explain the Australian Consumer Law in simple language.

The law applies nationally, and to all Australian businesses and can be referenced as follows <https://consumerlaw.gov.au/>.

12. International Student Employment Rights and Obligations

12.1 Visa Holder Employment Obligations

Overseas students are permitted to work up to “forty-eight (48) hours per fortnight” during the term (24 hours per week). Students are expected to know their visa conditions, including their work rights in Visa Condition 8105 (Work Limitation). Work rights may be impacted by the course level and the visa held when applying for a student visa.

Students cannot work before their course starts. Some students may be able to work before their course starts, if they held a visa that permitted them to work when they applied for their student visa. Your right to work before your course starts depends on your individual circumstances. To see the work conditions for your visa, check <https://immi.homeaffairs.gov.au/visas/already-have-a-visa/check-visa-details-and-conditions/overview>.

An example of how a student visas holder’s “forty-eight (48) hours per fortnight” working limit is calculated below:

- Week 1 - 18 hours' work.
- Week 2 - 30 hours' work.
- Week 3 - 22 hours' work.
- Week 4 - 22 hours' work.

As an international student, it is especially important that you understand your rights and obligations while on a student visa. Please refer to <https://immi.homeaffairs.gov.au/visas/getting-a-visa/visa-listing/student-500/temporary-relaxation-of-working-hours-for-student-visa-holders>.

If there are any workplace issues, the “Fair Work Ombudsman” can assist. Refer to the information here <https://www.fairwork.gov.au/how-we-will-help/how-we-help-you/help-resolving-workplace-issues> or the “Fair Work Australia Fact Sheet for International Students” provided in your orientation pack.

12.2 Minimum Rights and Conditions at Work - Know Your Rights

Like many international students, you may get a part time or casual job to help pay your living expenses while you study in Australia. It is important that you know your rights in the workplace. All people working in Australia have basic rights and protections in the workplace, including minimum pay and conditions.

The “Fair Work Ombudsman” makes sure that these rights are protected and enforced fairly under Australia’s workplace laws. In the student orientation pack, you will be issued, there is a fact sheet will help you understand your basic workplace rights, where to obtain further information, and how to seek assistance from the Fair Work Ombudsman. For more information, contact the “Fair Work Infoline” on “13 13 94” or visit <https://www.fairwork.gov.au/>.

All employees in the national workplace relations system receive ten (10) basic minimum entitlements. These minimum requirements are known as the “National Employment Standards (NES)” and are as follows:

- Maximum weekly hours of work
- Requests for flexible working arrangements
- Parental leave and related entitlements
- Annual leave
- Personal/carer's leave, and compassionate leave and family and domestic violence leave
- Community service leave
- Long service leave
- Public holidays
- Notice of termination and redundancy pay
- Provision of a Fair Work Information Statement

Australian Government

Are your work rights at risk?

Australia is a great place to study and work. But, sometimes you might notice something at work that feels wrong. It may be a sign that your work rights are at risk.

As an international student, you have rights in the workplace. These rights deserve to be protected. Here are some warning signs to be aware of.

You get paid in food and housing

- It is illegal for employers to offer food or housing in place of money. Free food is fine but only if it is on top of your actual pay.
- Do not accept other forms of payment. Tell your employer you need to be paid the actual money that was agreed.

You get money taken out of your pay

- Sometimes you may accidentally break something at work, customers may leave without paying, or the cash registers are short. Employers can't take money out of your pay to cover this.
- Do not let employers take money for breakages or theft. Employers are only allowed to take money out of your pay if you agree to it, if the agreement is written down and you benefit from it.

You are asked to apply for an ABN

- An ABN is an Australian business number. You usually only need one if you are running a business.
- Not everyone needs an ABN. For most jobs, you only need a TFN - a Tax File Number.
- An employer shouldn't ask you to get an ABN as a condition of employment.

You are asked to give back some of your pay

- If an employer pays you the correct, legal amount and then asks you to give some of your pay back in cash, this is a 'cashback scheme'. This is not allowed.
- Do not give back money in a cashback scheme. If you have paid back money like this, it is considered a deduction and you are entitled to get the money back.

You do not get your payslips

- This means you have no record of the hours you work and how much you get paid.
- Make sure you always receive a payslip (hard copy or electronic) within one working day of getting paid.

If you see any of these warning signs, contact the Fair Work Ombudsman for help.

Australian International Institute of Technology requires that all students complete all assessments and provide assessment evidence ethically and without Academic Misconduct notably plagiarism, collusion, cheating and/or the responsible use of artificial intelligence (AI).

The Academic Manager and Trainer and Assessors will ensure that academic integrity is maintained in all learning and assessment activities by providing information to students to ensure they understand what constitutes plagiarism, collusion, and cheating and what will be the outcome if they undertake such practice.

Australian International Institute of Technology has the following definitions for plagiarism, collusion, and cheating:

- Plagiarism is the submission of somebody else’s work as if it were the student’s own. This may include copying all or part of another person’s thoughts or ideas and representing them as your own. If students are including other peoples’ work in submissions e.g. passages from books or websites, then reference, using the “APA Referencing Style”, should be made to the source.
- Collusion involves the cooperation of two or more students in plagiarism or other forms of academic misconduct or cheating. Both collusion and plagiarism can occur in group work.
- Cheating is the use of any means to gain an unfair advantage during the assessment process. Cheating may include copying a friend’s answers, using mobile phones or other electronic devices during closed book assessments, bringing in and referring to pre-prepared written answers in a closed book assessment and referring to texts during closed book assessments amongst others.

Where it is found that plagiarism, collusion, and cheating has occurred, this will result in the student’s assessment submission being invalidated and student’s will be investigated for academic misconduct.

Students are expected to conduct their studies honestly, ethically and in harmony with the accepted academic standards established by “Plagiarism, Collusion and Cheating Policy and Procedure” and “Artificial Intelligence (AI) in Assessment Practices”, refer to <https://aiit.vic.edu.au/pol-pro>.

Assessment Tasks will not be accepted after “two (2) calendar weeks” from due date (including weekends). No assessment tasks will be accepted after the end of term. After the end of term, the student will be deemed to have not completed the unit of competency.

Students who have compelling reasons for late submission should apply for Special Consideration and/or Reassessment. Under “Special Consideration”, late assessment submissions can be granted by the Academic Manager only for a maximum of “one (1) calendar week”. Refer to the “Assessment Policy and Procedure” at <https://aiit.vic.edu.au/pol-pro>.

7.15 Assessment Outcomes

Each assessment task will be given an outcome of either “Satisfactory (S)”, “Not Satisfactory (NS)” or “Did Not Submit (DNS)”. Students must complete all tasks for a unit satisfactorily to achieve an overall outcome of “Competent (C)” for each unit of competency. If one or more of the tasks are assessed as Not Satisfactory, they will be given an outcome for the unit of “Not Yet Competent (NYC)”.

All students can have a total of “three (3) attempts” to complete each task and achieve a “Satisfactory” outcome. These additional attempts constitute the “Reassessment” process.

The student will be advised of the timeframe for resubmission (usually within one month) and advised what they must include in their re-submission (usually the whole task again).

If, after the third attempt, the student is still assessed as Not Satisfactory for an Assessment Task, they will need to re-enrol in the unit of competency. For more information refer to the “Assessment Policy and Procedure” at <https://aiit.vic.edu.au/pol-pro>
